

Sustainable Procurement Policy

ABM is committed to providing business solutions to our clients in a responsible and sustainable manner.

As such, we will continually improve our sustainable procurement practices by ensuring that our core values are integrated into our supply chain.

We appreciate that integrating sustainable procurement practices will be a key enabler for full integration of responsible business practices throughout the organisation.

With this in mind, we are committed to:

- Respecting human rights and upholding international labour law.
- Environmental best practice through optimising the use of resources and responsibly sourcing supplies and service.
- Ensuring value for money through life-cycle costing where relevant.
- Ensuring that sustainable procurement objectives are established and achieved.
- Undertaking due diligence to identify and regularly review and minimise the risks associated with our purchasing needs and supplier relationships in key areas including human rights, health and safety and material sourcing.
- Using our tendering and contract management practices to foster supplier innovation where practicable.
- Ensuring that procurement opportunities are open to local suppliers where practicable.
- Increase the use of third sector providers where practicable.
- Communicating this Policy internally and externally, ensuring that it is understood and its principles embedded within our organisation.
